Cusp A display font system from Typeco
Cusp is a display font that was initially inspired by austere Art Deco lettering. After the capitals were refined, then the lowercase was designed with a bit of techno flair. From these basic letterforms a variety of styles were created, ranging from the rigid DeStijl to the whimsical Loose.

Cusp is a super-kawaii display family of 16 fonts plus 2 fill fonts used for overlay effects.

Cusp is a versatile display font system that allows the user to mix, match, and overlay the letters for a dynamic effect. Two Fill fonts were designed specifically so that one can create graffiti-like multi-layered effects.

But you don’t have to limit yourself to the Fill fonts—you could offset Dots over Globular, or De Stijl over Square—your imagination is the limit.
